IRA Guidance on FFCRA Tax Credits

In an ACCNJ Alert distributed on April 22, we informed members the IRS updated its guidance for claiming tax credits related to voluntary FFCRA leave under the American Rescue Plan Act (ARP). The tax credits are refundable, which means the employer is entitled to payment of the full amount of the credits if it exceeds the employer's share of the Medicare tax. Employers may claim tax credits for sick and family leave paid to employees, including leave taken to receive or recover from COVID-19.
